

David Coluccio – Aged care expert

David Coluccio is Founder and Principal of Senexus, which offers independent advice and manages the placement process for families seeking an aged care home for their loved one in Adelaide.

Prior to starting Senexus, David spent more than ten years in a variety of management roles including as General Manager of the Women's & Children's Hospital Foundation where he raised funds for and project managed the redevelopment of the Playdeck as well as being instrumental in the fundraising and construction of the Starlight Room. During this time he also completed an MA (International Relations) and an MBA at the University of Adelaide and is a Graduate Member of the Australian Institute of Company Directors.

Passionate about ensuring access to quality aged care for those in need, David founded Senexus to help families through the stressful and emotional process of placing a loved one into residential aged care. David coordinates all aspects of placing a loved one into residential aged care, including undertaking the search for a suitable aged care home, advising on the costs of care and completing all paperwork, such as the Centrelink Income and Assets Assessment, on behalf of clients.

In his spare time David never misses attending Adelaide Oval to watch his beloved Port Adelaide Football Club and since 2009 he has been a director, and now Chairman, of the Cure4CF Foundation which is a local, medical research charity that raises funds for the development of a cure for cystic fibrosis.
